

The oceans, the ozone, the Great Barrier reef, our world is a magnificent edifice and trying to keep it alive is a telling task in the Gen-Z generation. Mother Nature provides the pinnacle of all we need and yet numbers of its creation are being destroyed by us, Humans, if we can put an end to wasting recyclable resources, cutting down trees and destroying natural habitats then as we know it, we are in danger of making our Mother Nature extinct.

I urge you and the mass to protect our forests, continue to enlighten on global warming, help the animals and create a new era in climate change and forge a greater society for you and I.

To restore the great society, be creative and industrious with recyclable items such as bottles, threads, plastics to create inventions which will promote climate change and prevent littering in the society, continue to enlighten the public on waste disposal, frontline the campaign against littering to achieve a litter-free environment and protect Mother Nature.

Also, do not leave running water on, it reduces the production by about 5% and wasting natural resources is a threat to providing a sustainable environment which affects our daily life in such a way that it could lead to world drought by the year 2050.

Furthermore, Let's all continue to grow trees and not destroy them, trees are the primary creation of Mother-Nature and destroying them makes her to be melancholic and unhappy, To prevent this, forest reserves should be enlightened on the need for the ban of tree poachers and instead practice afforestation in order to produce more trees. Trees contain a mineral which could be used to cure glaucoma and are essential in a habitat to provide serenity and stability.

In conclusion, protecting the environment is gigantic effort but let us give it our best shot in order to restore Mother-Nature back to its former glory. With your help, Let us forge a legacy to promote and sustain climate change. Thanks for Reading.
