

Generation Restoration: Shaping Our Future!

Name: Gerald Arazu

"Generation Restoration" is more than just a catchy phrase, it's a lifestyle. It's a call for us to take charge of our environment and our society as a whole. Climate change and Pollution play an antagonistic role in the story of our planet's health, these issues are the unfortunate downsides to economical and technological progress in our society.

But our generation holds the pen, the ability to rewrite our story entirely. Instead of being passive watchers we should play our part in the reduction and extermination of pollution in our everyday lives. Every small act from planting a tree all the way to creating a device that can decompose waste into usable materials. These efforts, Yes! These efforts big or small creates ripples of changes that can grow into waves of transformation.

We are the generation of change. Don't wait for change be the change. Plant that seed,

Pick up that trash, speak out, and step up. Generation restoration isn't just about keeping our environment clean, its about restoring hope in our home: Earth.

Let us be the author of the story of mankind and not our mistakes.
