GENERATION RESTORATION : SHAPING OUR FUTURE

We are the seeds that will grow tomorrow,
the voices echoing in flowing rivers.
We are the breath of the enduring trees,
the healers of wounds and the breakers of chains.

The skies remember when they were once blue,
before the smoke came and obscured their view.
The oceans whisper stories of what they've witnessed — plastic dreams and oil-slicked surfaces.

Yet we are not confined by what has come before.
We stand at the threshold of today.
With our hands in the soil and our hearts ablaze,
we rise with purpose, fueled by desire.

Can you hear the forests calling your name?
Will you leave the earth as you found it?
Or will you choose to plant, protect, and uplift,

With roots in truth and eyes turned toward the skies?

This is our moment—not one for hesitation,

But for reclaiming what is fading away.

One small act, one mindful choice,

And nature responds with her voice.

You are not too young to lead,

To sow a thought, take action, and nurture.

Restore the streams and replant the land; shape the future with your hands.

Will your story be one of care?

Of standing tall when few would dare?

Let this be your generation's anthem—

To right past wrongs and make amends.

Generation Restoration —

Not just a hope but a bold declaration.

We are the future.

We are here now.

We rise. We fight. We make this vow.
