

The Future Starts With Me and You.

In a bid to restore our generation
From roots of poisoned vegetation.
With tender hearts and restoring hands
We hope to restore our lands.
Our voices echo through the Hayes
Demanding change in lasting ways.
Reviving soils and cleaner streams
Saving the earth becomes more than a dream.

Though pain still lingers from the past
A brighter dawn breaks free at last.
Let us join our hands in unity
To heal the Earth with dignity.
We are the voice of rising tides
Of melting dreams and changing skies.
Each tree we plant, each breath we share
Restores the earth with conscious care.

With love and care defined
Restoring both the earth and mind
A movement is grown from soil and sea
To live in grace sustainably.
Together we save nature
Forever we build our future
With everything we do
The future starts with me and you.
