

VOICES OF THE FUTURE

What do we do with our voices?

Speak our truth or squeak

Powerful voices

Strong enough to shake trends

They make ends meet

What do we do with voices so powerful

Resounding, the world can't hear it's end

We visit the media block

Make friends to block?

Far be it we the new generation

Should partake in this degeneration

We click the song tiles

And cut off from world ties

Heavy breaths as our sun dies

What we do with voices so powerful,

We scream till the sunflower rises

We click sun our sun brightens

We block the media block

Till our writers block dies

And we rise again with voices alike

Chanting the futures cry, arise!
